A Continual Strain.

Many men and women are constantly subjected to what they commonly term "a continual strain," because of some financial or family trouble. It wears and distresses them both mentally and physically, affecting their nerves badly and bringing on liver and kidney ailments, with the attendant evils of constipation, loss of appetite, sleeplessness, low vitality and despondency. They cannot, as a rule, get rid of this "continual strain," but they can remedy its health-destroying effect by taking frequent doses of Green's August Flower. It tones up the liver, stimulates the kidneys, insures healthy bodily functions, gives vim and spirit to one's whole being, and eventually dispels the physical or mental distress caused by that "continual strain." Trial bottle of August Flower, 25c; regular size, 75c. For sale by H. M. Sigloch.

Jack Perkinson of near Prairie Hill who, with his wife, went to Denver, Colo., not long since for the benefit of his health, is nearing the dark valley, and his father-in-law, Rev. P. M. Sears of Prairie Hill, left the first of last week for his bedside.

Cleared for Action.

When the body is cleared for action by Dr. King's New Life Pills you can tell it by the bloom of health on the cheeks; the brightness of the eyes; the firmness of the flesh and muscles; the buoyancy of the mind. Try them. At O. B. Anderson & Son's drug store, 25 cents.

C. B. Oldham, who was formerly an editor and proprietor of the Salisbury Democrat, but more recently one of the editors and owners of the Russellville (Ark.) Democrat, has sold out to his partner on account of failing health. We regret to hear of Charlie's physical break-down, and hope that he may soon recuperate.

The Triplett Tribune says that the happiest man in Triplett or ever will be Dr. Brown, who is the proud father of a fine baby boy which came to bless his home Friday. Fisher Allemang says that the doctor has a broad smile on his face and is still chuckling to himself, and that he is proud of the fact that he is living on Roosevelt avenue.

According to the Salisbury Democrat, W. R. Sweeney and Fred Philpott, while fishing in the fishpond Wednesday evening, saw an alligator in the water that was at least four feet in length. It is supposed to be one of the alligators that was shipped to Charley Aldridge from Florida several years ago and were put in the canning factory pond.

The North Chariton correspondence of the Salisbury Press-Spectator contained the following interesting item last week: Some time last winter Joe Cunningham who lives alone in this community, disappeared from his home. When the neighbors noticed his disappearance some of them went and looked in his house thinking that possibly he had taken sick and died, but no trace of him could be found. The matter remained a complete mystery until last week Mr. Cunningham came home. He had been at work near Rothville.

Albert Murrain, who resides east of Linneus, is the possessor of an old "Whig almanac," dated 1852, which is quite a curiosity. It is much more voluminous than the almanac of modern times and, doubtless, in its day served the office of a whole library in many a pioneer home. It contained much relating to national and state governments, political and general statistics. Eight pages of it are devoted to a letter by Horace Greeley to a friend under the caption: "Why Am I a Whig?" At the time this antique almanac made its appearance Linn county is quoted as having had a population of 5,058 and Missouri only had a population of 682,044 souls. Missouri's U. S. senators at that time were David B. Atchinson and Henry S. Geyer. Our state only had five representatives in congress then. They were John F. Darby, Gilchrist Porter, John G. Miller, Willard P. Hall and John S. Phelps. Millard Fillmore was president of the United States and Daniel Webster was secretary of state when this almanac was printed.

Wm. Sheridan, a resident of Saline county for 70 years, died at his home, near Shackelford, Thursday morning.

Our readers, says the Mendon Constitution, have no doubt read of finding pearls while eating oysters, but John Millican, the station agent at Rothville, goes that one better this week by discovering a diamond in a can of salmon of which he was eating. The gem is small but genuine and is worth in the neighborhood of $15.

Exposure.

To cold draughts of air, to keen and cutting winds, sudden changes of temperature, scanty clothing, undue exposure of the throat and neck after public speaking and singing, bring on coughs and colds. Ballard's Horehound Syrup is the best cure. Mrs. A. Darr, Houston, Texas, writes, January 31, 1902: "One bottle of Ballard's Horehound Syrup cured me of a very bad cough. It is very pleasant to take." 25c. 50c. $1. H. M. Sigloch.

We see by the Triplett Tribune that all the members of the Triplett high school graduating class drove over to Brunswick Tuesday to have a picture taken of the class, and while going down Cunningham hill, near Brunswick, the tongue of the surrey broke and the team ran away. Fortunately no one was hurt and there was no injury to the team or damage to the vehicle. The team was caught near the opera-house in Brunswick.

We learn from the Salisbury Democrat that Sunday afternoon of last week while the team of D. J. Hutchinson & Co. was being hitched to a buggy at the Jackson livery barn in Salisbury, and while the man hitching them up turned around and went a step or so to get a whip or something the team started and ran away. Coming out of the front door, they started east on Second street, crossing Broadway at a furious rate. They continued east on Second street until running astride of the electric light pole in front of Ed Huss', where they almost completely demolished the buggy, breaking the tongue, two of the wheels, double and single trees, harness, and tearing the top and seat completely off the box or bed of the buggy. The team separated there, one of them getting a fearful fall, one going straight out Second and the other turning south on Grand avenue and running out about the public school building. They were soon found and brought to the barn not much hurt, but the buggy was a total wreck and was left at Ed Huss' shop for repairs. It was lucky that no one was in the buggy when it struck the light post, as instant death would have been almost inevitable.

Wine of Cardui Cured Her.

213 South Prior Street, ATLANTA, GA., March 21, 1903.

I suffered for four months with extreme nervousness and lassitude. I had a sinking feeling in my stomach which no medicine seemed to relieve, and losing my appetite I became weak and lost my vitality. In three weeks I lost fourteen pounds of flesh and felt that I must find speedy relief to regain my health. Having heard Wine of Cardui praised by several of my friends, I sent for a bottle and was certainly very pleased with the results. Within three days my appetite returned and my stomach troubled me no more. I could digest my food without difficulty and the nervousness gradually diminished. Nature performed her functions without difficulty and I am once more a happy and well woman.

FOR BOTH

One disease of thinness in children is scrofula; in adults, consumption. Both have poor blood; both need more fat. These diseases thrive on leanness. Fat is the best means of overcoming them; cod liver oil makes the best and healthiest fat and is the easiest and most effective form of cod liver oil. Here's a natural order of things that shows why Scott's Emulsion is of so much value in all cases of scrofula and consumption. More fat, more weight, more nourishment, that's why.

Growing Aches and Pains.

Mrs. Josie Sumner, Bremond, Texas, writes, April 15, 1902, "I have used Ballard's Snow Liniment in my family for three years. I would not be without it in my house. I have used it on my little girl for growing pains and aches in her knees. It cured her right away. I have also used it for frost bitten feet, with good success. It is the best liniment I ever used." 25c, 50c, $1. Sold by H. M. Sigloch.

The largest fire that has visited Chillicothe in years occurred Thursday morning. The following were the losers: Residence of Pit Cloudas slightly damaged; horseshoeing shop of Henry Miller destroyed, with all its contents; the blacksmith and repair-shop owned by Y. H. Harvey was completely destroyed with most of the contents; Hoge Bros' lumber-yard completely destroyed; livery barn of Lewis Girdner was completely destroyed, including eight head of horses and his fine hearse; the carriage-shop of Harry Pringle was greatly damaged; the dwelling-house of A. McVey was practically ruined and the contents badly damaged; the house owned by Mrs. S. W. Dedrick, to the north of Mr. McVey's residence, which was occupied by C. Crossan and family as a residence was badly damaged, nearly the whole roof being burned off; the house J. F. Hawley was slightly damaged; the first house south of Mr. McVey's, owned by Dr. S. M. Beeman and occupied by R. W. Hornung and family, was badly damaged; Mr. McVey's fine barn which has been built but a few years ago was completely destroyed; the out-buildings to some of the property mentioned above were also destroyed.

A Creeping Death.

Blood poison creeps up towards the heart, causing death. J. E. Sterns, Belle Plaine, Minn., writes that a friend dreadfully injured his hand, which swelled up like blood poisoning. Bucklin's Arnica Salve drew out the poison, healed the wound, and saved his life. Best in the world for burns and sores. 25c at O. B. Anderson & Son's drug store.

The Macon Times-Democrat has the following to say of Will J. Collins, a former compositor in the COURIER office: Will J. Collins, for many years the faithful type-setter, proof-reader and all-round man in the Macon Republican office, was taken suddenly ill while reading a proof last Wednesday afternoon, and had to be sent to his boarding-house in a carriage. He has been very weak ever since and may not be able to resume his duties for some time. The trouble is a paralysis of the lower limbs, which makes it impossible for him to move around without assistance. His sister, Mrs. Catterton, Clifton Hill, Randolph county, came up Saturday and remained with him until he was removed to her home. It is thought that with a little rest and the invigorating air of the country Mr. Collins will soon regain his good health. There were three Collins brothers, all printers—Jesse, Charles and Will. Will was the fastest one of the lot; however, all were experts. In the days when type was set by hand in the city offices, Mr. Collins won the championship in the composing-room of the Cincinnati Commercial-Gazette. His opponent was J. M. Johnson, said to be the swiftest man in the United States at that time. The "copy" was the president's message, all reprint, set in solid nonpareil. Five hours was the limit. In that time Johnson set 8,425 ems. Collins' record was 8,495, which showed how nearly the two experts were in skill. In spite of rheumatism and other ills, Mr. Collins is to-day able to hold his own with the average hand type-setter. He never operated a linotype machine. He tried to, but it didn't come natural to him, and he stepped aside for the apparatus that can do the work of half a dozen good men.
